

Using WebCT for Library Student Worker Training

Lori Northrup, Reference Dept. Coordinator
Samford University Library
lanorthr@samford.edu (205) 726-2079

Why you should try WebCT for training:

- ✓ Guided, tailored training in multiple formats
 - Suitable for tailoring to distinct groups and task assignments
 - .html, Word, .ppt, etc.
- ✓ Accountability for student and trainer
 - History of assignments and quizzes
 - Tracking of student progress and grades
- ✓ Catalyst for question/problem discussions
 - Tracking reveals problems/confusion
 - Progression as a basis for more in-depth personal training
- ✓ Review and correction tool
 - Available whenever students are at work
 - Point-of-instruction tool

Using WebCT for Library Student Worker Training

Lori Northrup, Reference Dept. Coordinator
Samford University Library
lanorthr@samford.edu (205) 726-2079

Why you should try WebCT for training:

- ✓ Guided, tailored training in multiple formats
 - Suitable for tailoring to distinct groups and task assignments
 - .html, Word, .ppt, etc.
- ✓ Accountability for student and trainer
 - History of assignments and quizzes
 - Tracking of student progress and grades
- ✓ Catalyst for question/problem discussions
 - Tracking reveals problems/confusion
 - Progression as a basis for more in-depth personal training
- ✓ Review and correction tool
 - Available whenever students are at work
 - Point-of-instruction tool

Using WebCT for Library Student Worker Training

Lori Northrup, Reference Dept. Coordinator
Samford University Library
lanorthr@samford.edu (205) 726-2079

Why you should try WebCT for training:

- ✓ Guided, tailored training in multiple formats
 - Suitable for tailoring to distinct groups and task assignments
 - .html, Word, .ppt, etc.
- ✓ Accountability for student and trainer
 - History of assignments and quizzes
 - Tracking of student progress and grades
- ✓ Catalyst for question/problem discussions
 - Tracking reveals problems/confusion
 - Progression as a basis for more in-depth personal training
- ✓ Review and correction tool
 - Available whenever students are at work
 - Point-of-instruction tool

Using WebCT for Library Student Worker Training

Lori Northrup, Reference Dept. Coordinator
Samford University Library
lanorthr@samford.edu (205) 726-2079

Why you should try WebCT for training:

- ✓ Guided, tailored training in multiple formats
 - Suitable for tailoring to distinct groups and task assignments
 - .html, Word, .ppt, etc.
- ✓ Accountability for student and trainer
 - History of assignments and quizzes
 - Tracking of student progress and grades
- ✓ Catalyst for question/problem discussions
 - Tracking reveals problems/confusion
 - Progression as a basis for more in-depth personal training
- ✓ Review and correction tool
 - Available whenever students are at work
 - Point-of-instruction tool